

-
1. Corn is in the _____ family.
 2. Corn can be made into _____.
 3. Soybeans are related to _____.
 4. _____ is the number one cereal grain in the world.
 5. _____ is the official state snack food of IL.
 6. A fiber crop that is grown in warmer climates is _____.
 7. A subterranean legume that is extremely versatile is _____.
 8. _____ is an oil crop that is extremely low in saturated fats.
 9. Canola was developed from the inedible _____ in the 1970's.
 10. IL is ranked number 4 in the nation for _____ production.
 11. IL is ranked number one in the nation for _____ production.
 12. Sunflowers are grown for _____.
 13. Which of these choices is a common turf grass?
 14. Wheat is a _____ crop.
 15. A _____ crop is one that is grown for its starch content and is usually in the grass family.
 16. _____ is the main ingredient in beer and gruel.
 17. A grain that is adapted to the colder, drier climates of Northern Europe is called _____.
 18. _____ comes from crushing and boil sorghum grain.
 19. _____ is an example of a legume.
 20. Melons like to have _____ soils and plenty of _____.
 21. The crop that can be processed into table sugar is _____.

22. A crop that can make its own nitrogen is called a(n)...
23. Sweet corn must be harvested when it is _____ to ensure its _____.
24. The highest protein forage is _____.
25. A crop that is grown for its ability to spread and prevent erosion is...
26. Name 4 vegetable crops that could be grown in IL.
27. List 4 corn products (2 food and 2 non-food).
28. List 4 soybean products (2 food and 2 non-food).
29. Name 3 cereal grains.
30. Why do you think people refer to the midwest as the breadbasket of the country?